

DRUG & ALCOHOL TESTING FOR YOUR DRIVERS

THE INDIANA LUMBER & BUILDERS' SUPPLY ASSOCIATION, INC.
Timothy J. Murphy, CAE – Executive Vice President & CEO

TO: ILBSA MEMBERS
FR: Timothy J. Murphy, CAE
RE: Alcohol & Drug Testing Consortium

I send you this important communication to reinforce the enhanced benefits of the 2009 Alcohol & Drug Testing consortium. As you know, your “safety-sensitive” employees, like CDL drivers, are required to be tested periodically. The power of the Association really comes to the forefront with a “consortium”, or one large group, to provide this testing to keep you in compliance with FMCSA (Federal Motor Carrier Safety Administration) and DOT (Dept. of Transportation) rules.

As the consortium has grown over the years, so have the needs of the members. As a business leader, you would rather spend your time building your business, dealing with customers, and making sales; not being bogged down with government paperwork, hoping you are in compliance. And with the Consortium, your entire program is handled. It's that simple.

In response to these member requests, we've made some changes in the Consortium. An important change you need to know about is the new provider for testing, INDIANA TESTING. This change was made for several reasons – more services for your money, enhanced educational materials for you and your staff, supervisor training, pre-employment testing NOW INCLUDED for consortium members, and deep discounts on optional administrative materials. In addition, Indiana Testing provides a web site for you in getting critical information, answers to your questions, new regulations, and links to test results pages. We thought it imperative to bring you these enhancements while keeping the costs low. And providing superior service at the best rates is part of the everyday mission of ILBSA.

Many of our members have also asked for other employees (those who may not have a CDL license) to be tested as well. Under many programs, these tests are not included at the same rate. With the ILBSA Consortium and Indiana Testing, they are.

I encourage you to be part of this growing, money-saving program, designed exclusively for ILBSA members. If you haven't sent in your 2009 renewal form, please do so right away so we can place your employees in the scheduling pool. If you need update forms, you may call me at any time at 317-875-3737 or 1-877-465-8627; or you can sign up online at www.ilbsa.org.

I thank you for your participation in this vital member program, and look forward to serving you.
